Welcome to the Hourglass Recycling July Newsletter! We're so excited to have you here as part of our growing community. Whether you're a new supporter or someone who's been with us since the beginning, your involvement helps us move closer to a cleaner, more sustainable future. In this month's edition, we're sharing some exciting updates and progress made by the Hourglass team.

UPCOMING EVENTS, KEY DETAILS, AND MORE.

WHAT WE DID IN JUNE

In June, Hourglass Recycling took major steps forward in our mission. We officially expanded into three new neighborhoods, making our services more accessible than ever. Our new website domain, hourglassrecycling.org, is now live, giving the community a central hub for updates, applications, and more. We're also excited to welcome three new Recycling Managers and Captains to the team, who will help lead our growth and impact moving forward. WHAT TO EXPECT IN JULY

Looking ahead to July, you can expect continued expansion into new neighborhoods as we grow our impact and reach more households. Our member count is steadily increasing, and we're excited to bring even more people into the Hourglass community. Although there are no major events scheduled for the month, we'll continue our regular operations and remain active on our social media platforms, providing updates and highlights. Behind the scenes, our team is also working hard toward securing PVSA certification to further recognize and reward the efforts of our amazing volunteers.
